Fastrack User Conference A Huge Success

Plainview, NY...Fastrack Healthcare Systems held its' annual User Conference last week in New York attracting clients from across the United States. The three day conference featured seminars, training sessions and networking opportunities for clients utilizing the Fastrack HME, DME, Infusion Pharmacy and Home Health Care Agency software and technology solutions.

Eric Kline of ELINT Technology was the Keynote Speaker discussing major industry trends and offering advice regarding ways in which providers can grow their business. Kline is an expert in cultivating referral sources and training programs for homecare sales staff.

A wide array of Fastrack led seminars allowed the attendees to learn about Workflow Management and streamlining operations, how to best utilize the Internet, the impact of regulatory changes including the new 5010 standards and ICD-10, warehouse management, using reporting and business intelligence as management tool, billing and audit strategies and more. A Fastrack user led a seminar on the use of Fastrack's Custom Form Generator, reporting tools and customizable template features. "The feedback on the Conference was overwhelmingly positive with clients indicating the seminars and training sessions provided invaluable information that will help improve their operations overall," stated Fastrack's President, Spencer Kay.

The conference had strong support from Fastrack business partners including; ZirMed, ELINT Technology, AR Allegiance, Continuity Centers, CPAPDropship.com and AuthentiDate. Several of the vendors led seminars including Bruce Ghering of AR Allegiance, who discussed A/R collection strategies.

One of the benefits of the User Conference is the ability for clients to meet with other providers as well as members of Fastrack's staff, including the Fastrack Billing Service. The final session included an open forum for clients to learn of upcoming enhancements to the software and discuss future product development with Fastrack's management team. According to Spencer Kay, "We look forward to this aspect of the conference as it provides our team the opportunity to gain insight into our client's need."
